THE CHATEAU of CHAMBORD. More than four centuries after its construction, Chambord still defies the imagination: 156 metres of stone façades, 56-metre-high, and 440 rooms.

THE CHATEAU of CHEVERNY, which became the model for Marlinspike Hall in Hergé's Adventures of Tintin will surprise you with the richness and diversity of its furniture, and the authentic charm and refined decoration of its rooms.

IN THE MORNING

THE GARDENS of the CHATEAU of VILLANDRY. Like a jewelry box, the fabulous gardens of Villandry surround one of the last great chateaux built on the banks of the Loire during the Renaissance. Walk through one of the most beautiful gardens in France, constructed on three levels.
